

Sheldon Callender, CEBS

Vice President, Human Resources
VersaCold Logistics Services
Vancouver, British Columbia

Sheldon Callender is currently the Vice President of Human Resources for VersaCold Logistics Services, one of North America's largest cold supply networks. For over 20 years, he has worked as a human resources professional with deep expertise in total rewards. Callender holds a bachelor of honours degree from the University of Guelph, a bachelor of education degree from York University, and certificates in strategic human resources certification from Cornell University and labour law from York Universities Osgoode Hall. He has received a number of Total Rewards-related designations and prides himself on being a lifelong learner.