Senior Director, Risk Management
Orange County Public Schools
Orlando, Florida

Beth A. Curran is a distinguished alumna of Rollins College in Winter Park, Florida, and she currently serves as the senior director, risk management, for Orange County Public Schools—the fourth largest school district in Florida and the eighth largest in the United States, serving more than 215,000 students and 25,000 employees. In her leadership role, Beth oversees the district's comprehensive insurance programs, including employee benefits, property and liability coverage, and workers' compensation. Her strategic oversight ensures robust risk mitigation and operational continuity across the district. With over 40 years of experience in the insurance industry spanning Florida and Colorado, Beth has dedicated more than 21 years to serving two major Central Florida school districts. Her career also includes 14 years with two national medical carriers and five years with international benefits consulting firms, reflecting a deep and diverse expertise in health care and risk management. Beth also contributes at the state level as a director, executive committee member, and compliance officer for the Florida Alliance of Healthcare Value.
