

Martha M. Henrickson, CEBS

Attorney
Management Guidance, LLP
St. Paul, Minnesota

Martha M. Henrickson is an attorney with Management Guidance, LLP, a law office in St. Paul, Minnesota. She specializes in labor relations, collective bargaining, and the administration of contractor trade associations that engage in multiemployer or coordinated bargaining and that have trustee appointment authority. Her 25-year career includes experience in labor relations, human resources, association management, matters of trusteeship and workforce development efforts. Henrickson is an employer trustee on more than 20 Taft-Hartley funds, including retirement, health and welfare, and apprenticeship, and she is a professional trustee on several funds. She is the current secretary of the International Foundation's Executive Committee; serves on its Board of Directors; is a member of its strategic Initiative Steering Committee; and serves as the Executive Committee Liaison to the Apprenticeship, Training and Education Committee. Henrickson has previously held positions with Mortenson Construction, the Associated General Contractors (AGC) of Minnesota and the Minneapolis National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA). Henrickson earned her J.D. degree, magna cum laude, from Mitchell Hamline School of Law, where she also earned a certificate in conflict resolution and theory. She also holds an M.A. degree in management and a B.A. degree in human resources management.