

Erin H. Woods

Partner

Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP
New York, New York

As a partner of Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP (BFA) with nearly 20 years in the class action industry, Erin provides BFA's clients a unique blend of years of litigation experience, representation of institutional investors, and expertise in the claims administration process. Erin is currently a member of the teams prosecuting the securities class actions against CVS, Inc., and Citigroup, Inc., as well as the teams pursuing confidential Section 220 Demands on behalf of a number of BFA clients. Erin also leads institutional investor outreach and advises pension funds and other entities on lawsuits concerning violations of U.S. and non-U.S. securities and investment laws, antitrust and consumer laws, and relevant securities class action settlements. In addition, Erin is a member of many pension fund organizations. She frequently participates in panel discussions about securities monitoring and litigation at national conferences, and she has co-authored a number of articles regarding the securities litigation and corporate governance landscape.
